How did T.Y. Lin days influence your career?

projects and business development early in my career was the best thing that happened to me professionally.

Memories of T.Y. Lin personnel, events and projects:

Working in a leaky basement, attaching styrofoam blocks to our shoes with rubber bands to keep our shoes dry - Taping a piece of cardboard to the exterior wall to deflect the water running down the wall into a waste basket - The good old days

Names of T.Y. Lin alumni you are still in contact with: Benny Bollier, Dilip Nandwana

Ross Ellena (Atlas)

Future plans including retirement:

Improve my golf game, read more books

Personal message for T.Y. Lin reunion (include photos etc. as attachment)

My first wife, Donna, died of cancer in 1999, after 43 years of marriage. After I decided I needed to get a new life, I met and married Joanna Aloni in 2002. She is an artist who does painting and sculpture. We bought a house and remodelled it at the same time we were preparing for the wedding - talk about stress! We adopted a 5-year-old German Shorthair Pointer last year - a high-energy dog who keeps us young (at heart). We love movies, go to lots of concerts and plays and attend classes at UCLA. She also got me interested in folk dancing, which we do once a week.
